Joint Service Reserve Component Facility Board (JSRCFB)

Joint Service Reserve Component Facility Board (JSRCFB)

Mission:

To maximize usage of Reserve Component Land, Facilities, and Installations by promulgating Joint Use and Construction by two or more Reserve Components.

Joint Service Reserve Component Facility Board (JSRCFB)

Overview:

- The JSRCFB is required in each state to annually assess Reserve component Military Construction (MILCON) projects for potential as joint construction projects
- The JSRCFB is comprised of appointed members from each Reserve component that has at least one unit in that state or territory

Purpose:

- Review and Validate All States Military Construction (MILCON) Requirements / Identify “Potential” Joint Projects
- Establish and Maintain Communication Between Reserve Components / Encourage Pursuit of Best Opportunities for Joint Construction and Joint Use of DOD Facilities
- Leverage Scarce MILCON Resources

Joint Service Reserve Component Facility Board (JSRCFB)

Authority:

- TITLE 10 U.S.C. Chapter 1803-Facilities for Reserve Components
  - § 18231. Purpose and
  - §18234. Location and Use
- § 18231. Purpose

(2) the joint use of those facilities by units of two or more of those reserve components, to the greatest practicable extend for efficiency and economy;

- § 18234. Location and Use

No expenditures or contribution may be made for a facility under section 18233 of this title, unless the Secretary of Defense determines that—

(2) the plan under which the facility is to be provided makes provision for the greatest practicable use of the facility jointly by units of two or more of those components.

Joint Service Reserve Component Facility Board (JSRCFB)

Authority:

- Title 10 § 2815. “Joint use military construction projects: annual evaluation” requires:
  - (b) Annual Evaluation.— In the case of the budget submitted under section 1105 of title 31 for any fiscal year, the Secretary of Defense shall include in the budget justification materials submitted to Congress in support of the budget a certification by each Secretary concerned that, in evaluating military construction projects for inclusion in the budget for that fiscal year, the Secretary concerned evaluated the feasibility of carrying out the projects as joint use military construction projects.
- DoD Financial Management Regulation Volume 2B, Chapter 6 provides implementing guidance
  - The DD Form 1391 submitted in the budget estimate submission to OSD must include a statement certifying that the project was considered for joint construction
- Failure to include the statement can lead to the elimination of a project from the program by OUSD (Comptroller)

Joint Service Reserve Component Facility Board (JSRCFB)

Authority:

- DoD Financial Management Regulation, Volume 2B, Chapter 6
- DoD Directive, 1225.07 Reserve Component Facilities Programs and Unit Stationing
- DoD Instruction, 1225.8 Reserve Component Facilities Programs and Unit Stationing

Joint Service Reserve Component Facility Board (JSRCFB)

Joint Construction Project:

Military Construction (MILCON) project that combines the space and functional requirements of two or more Service components into one facility, thereby eliminating the need to build separate (or unilateral) facilities.

- Each Component occupies the facility, and has some exclusive use space; however, the facility also has shared or common use areas that effectively reduce the overall required square footage (resulting in reduced construction costs).
- Cost savings occur due to the design and construction of one facility instead of two (or more) separate facilities.
- Cost savings also occur in contract administration, supervision, inspection, and overhead (one contract versus two or more).
- Cost savings continue after construction by eliminating duplication of the following requirements: Antiterrorism/Force Protection; facility maintenance and repair (i.e., Sustainment); and future Restoration and Modernization costs.
